A. A. HEAPS, M.P., DISRESPECTFUL

Many of those Jewish citizens of Winnipeg North whose votes helped to elect Mr. A. A. Heaps will regret his action in remaining seated when "God Save the King" was sung at the close of the sitting of Parliament last week. It is admitted that Mr. Heaps in so doing was only falling in with the attitude of his party, of which the other members are Messrs. Woodsworth and Bourassa. But we do not like like to see a Jew demonstrating such ostensible disrespect to the crowned head of the Government of Canada. We credit Mr. Heaps with sufficient political acumen to be aware that in many circles, not confined to any one party, the Jews in Canada are regarded as unpatriotic aliens. He knows that the position of the Jews in the Dominion is in regard to several vital questions a difficult one, and that a tactless exhibition of bad taste is not likely to render that position any the easier. He has allowed himself to be hailed as a Jewish member of Parliament. In order to secure election he has in recent years attempted to identify himself with Jewish movements and has since his election welcomed the attentions of Jews in the east. He must have found out that the Jewish spirit is a loyal one, even to an unpaternal government. Mr. Heaps is helping, by his votes to keep in power a government with which he is not in accord, the opposition to which he stood as a candidate. If he votes with the government he might reasonably stand with the government while the National Anthem is sung. It may not be logical, but it is nevertheless painfully real that while Messrs. Woodsworth and Bourassa may do as they please, Mr. Heaps is in a position that calls for a little good taste. Besides, Mr. Heaps must have risen on a good many occasions for the singing of Hatikvah. Where's the difference?

"PATRIOTISM"—WINNIPEG BRAND

It is a pity to think that the men who won such glorious victories in Flanders fields and who placed Canada so high up on the rolls of heroism should suffer so miserable a defeat in the things of the spirit. The unhappy controversy over the selection of the design for the memorial to Winnipeg's heroic dead is an instance of defeat in victory. It is a demonstration of failure. The design for the Winnipeg cenotaph, which was approved by the selection committee as being the most beautiful and most suitable of all those submitted, is the work of a naturalized British citizen of German origin who has lived in Canada for twenty-three years. He is an artist of repute, an artist whose work ought to make Canadians proud of calling him their fellow-citizen. But objection to the acceptance of his plan has been made on the ground that Mr. Hahn is a German. In spite of the honourable stand taken by Mr. R. D. Waugh, chairman of the committee supported by the president of the Canadian Club, which raised the bulk of the funds, and a number of influential citizens, the strident voice of race discrimination has been raised with effect. Mr. Hahn has withdrawn his design, according to newspaper report in the east, and Winnipeg is not to be disgraced by a monument defiled with the artistic genius of a Canadian citizen tainted with German origin.

What hypocrites so many "patriots" show themselves to be! The war was waged to crush the menacing spirit of Prussianism, to make the world safe for democracy, to set men free. Yet the victory and the sacrifice that gained it is to be commemorated by a monument reared to the spirit of the Prussian junker; to the triumph of intolerance and the defiance of the true spirit of democracy. What is more democratic than genius and art? Whatever it may be, the cenotaph now becomes a monument not to the glorious dead, but to the inglorious living.

It is now an emblem of defeat in victory. The cenotaph will in the course of time be dedicated, with Christian ceremonial, to the glory of God. The "patriots" will undoubtedly claim to be Christians. They must have already gone down on their knees and thanked God in the name of Jesus Christ for the "success" of their efforts to manifest the great Christian teachings. They will have praised Him for the lives that were given that they might triumph in their true Christian love. One often wonders if Christians really do thank God for their victories of intolerance; if they really do think they please God by their intolerance. Professed Christianity is often rather puzzling. It is time that Christians made themselves a little more understandable. Mr. R. D. Waugh may be called a true Christian. He gave much in the war. His son is among the glorious dead. He hated the Germany that brought on the war. But he felt that his Christianity taught him to forgive his enemies and did much to ease their unhappy plight in defeat. He felt that the Spirit of God which lighteth where it will had inspired a Canadian citizen to a work of beauty expressive of the glory of Canada's sons. He felt that Canadian citizenship is broad enough to include all who accept it loyally in a bond of brotherhood and equality. But he, and his fellow members of the committee, have been denounced as unpatriotic and un-Canadian. Has Christianity also fallen a victim? Or is this triumph of intolerance a victory of the Christian spirit? Declare yourselves, ye "patriots" of Winnipeg!

And what is to become of Canadian citizenship, if the treatment of Mr. Hahn is to be looked upon as a criterion? Has it any value? Is it worth having? Had Mr. Hahn allowed his design to stand, there is no doubt but that the more sensible and righteous of the citizens would have won out. It is perhaps a pity that he has withdrawn. He has thereby left the memorial to become an emblem of defeat in victory and he has weakened the hands of those who still desire to fight for the better spirit that will dissolve the unworthy hatred that still lurks in the hearts of many who loudly claim their Christianity and wave aloft the flag of patriotism. They gave Mr. Hahn Canadian citizenship, but drove him from its privileges. It is particularly cruel, for the German citizenship that he renounced acts just the same way. Mr. Hahn must now realize that in making a change, he gained no improvement. There is no escape for many of us from the League of Damnations.

ARTIST DAUGHTER OF MAX NORDAU GIVES ADDRESS IN MONTREAL

Mlle. Maxa Nordau, who is in America on a lecture tour, spoke under the auspices of the Jewish People's Library at the Windsor Hall, March 7. Glimpses of Max Nordau as his family knew him, rather than of Doctor Nordau, famous philosopher, critic and co-worker with Theodore Herzl, were given by his distinguished daughter. Her address was characterized by a certain impartiality, a deep affection for a father who doted on his daughter, and a flashing wit.

Mrs. Louis Fitch introduced the lecturer who, although French by birth, spoke in English. Mme. Olga Leiber contributed a musical programme.

"If you have read Max Nordau's books," said Mlle. Nordau, "you must imagine his literary personality as being sarcastic, hard, violent, sceptic. If you know of his Zionist work, you imagine him as a new prophet of Israel, a tremendous speaker. But few know the man as he was; there was a great difference between the private and the public man. He was a man who in his own life was true to his principles, sacrificing everything to them. The first part of his work was destructive work. He tried to tear down all that he found wrong in society. The second part of his work was constructive work. He hoped to clear the way for future generations."

Mlle. Nordau concluded with a picture of her father's work in later years in connection with the Zionist movement. His ideals, she said, had been misunderstood, but he sacrificed himself for the cause he had so much at heart. When adversity came to him, and he was physically ill, though mentally and morally he was as strong as before, he was always patient, tender and more understanding than ever before. His remains, she said, were now to be buried in the Holy Land, in Tel-Aviv.

Mlle. Nordau is exhibiting at the New Gallery, New York. She is an artist of note, having studied for a number of years in Spain.

Professor James Adolph Israel, internationally recognized specialist on kidney surgery, died in Berlin last Saturday, aged 78.

In 1909 he performed an operation on former President Castro, of Venezuela. He was at one time summoned to Russia to attend the Czarevitch Alexi Nikolaievitch.

When the Czar of Russia in July, 1912, sent to Berlin for a Jewish surgeon to come to Petrograd and remove a kidney from his 8-year-old son it was regarded as especially convincing evidence of the pre-eminence of Dr. Israel in his field of surgery. It was said that he received a fee of $25,000. The Russian doctors had diagnosed the case correctly, but hesitated to operate on so exalted a patient until their opinion had been corroborated by Dr. Israel.

To Constantinople Dr. Israel journeyed in August, 1915, to relieve the agony of the Sultan, who was suffering from gallstones. The surgeon spoke afterward of the courage of the old Sultan. King Alfonso was another royal patient of Dr. Israel.

CULTURAL HISTORY OF THE JEWS IS TOLD IN UNIQUE COLLECTION

A unique collection of Judaica, forming the only museum of Jewish cultural history in this country, and the most complete in the world, is on its way to the Hebrew Union College at Cincinnati. The acquisition of the museum was announced by Adolph S. Oko, librarian of the College, who arrived in New York Tuesday, from Europe, after a ten weeks' trip abroad, during which he completed the purchase of the collection. The museum was the property of S. Kirchstein, in Berlin and it includes the colections made by Mr. Kirchstein during 35 years, and by Director Frauberger of the Dusseldorf Museum.

This collection tells in manuscript, pictures, decrees, books and ceremonial objects the cultural history of the Jews of the world from the Middle Ages to the present day. The whole panorama of the Jews is spread out before the student—all the objects used by him in his religious worship from the Ark of the Torah to the Passover plates, the achievements of the Jew as an artist and craftsman, as painter, etcher, architect, sculptor, musician, writer and philosopher.

Packed in 34 cases are 6,174 items of artistic and historic importance. They were purchased by Mr. Oko with a fund raised from leaders of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, which maintains the Hebrew Union College and its library.

Outstanding among the thousands of objects is a cross of the Spanish Inquisition. This is the only Inquisition Cross of whose existence collectors are aware, and it testifies to a tragic history. This cross, centuries ago, was pressed into the hands of Jewish martyrs as they walked to the stake, and the men who preferred to die rather than renounce their faith were forced to hold it aloft in their death agony. The cross bears a Spanish inscription which, translated in part, says: "Who holds you, does not have the cross: who holds you not has the cross." The value of the cross is estimated at $10,000.

More than one hundred scrolls of parchment, known as Megillot, bearing the story of the deliverance of the Jews of Persia from their enemies by the intervention of Queen Esther are included. They date from the Renaissance to the present day. More than two-thirds of the Gegillot are hand-illuminated and illustrated. The story of Esther is told by means of workmanship in silver filigree in one of the scrolls.

A SARGENT EXHIBITION IN LONDON

The Memorial Exhibition of over 600 of the works of J. S. Sargent opened recently in London. The Exhibition contains a number of portraits of prominent Jews and Jewesses, some of whom have passed away, others who are still living and active in English Jewry. Among these are Sir George Herschell, painted in 1889, Sir Philip Sassoon and of his sister, Lady Cholmondeley, Lady Faudel Phillips, Hon. Mrs. Franklin and Mr. E. G. Raphael. A critic says regarding the Jewish portraits, that Mr. Sargent was apparently most sympathetic to his Jewish friends, "most of the portraits bringing out the spirituality and intellectuality of the type, and the kindly humour of the best class of Jews. A visit to the Exhibition should be a wholesome, though perhaps bitter, tonic to the unthinking anti-Semite."

DR. CALISCH IN SHANGHAI

The Rev. Dr. Edward N. Calisch, of Richmond, Va., together with his son, Mr. Harold Calisch, recently visited Shanghai, while on a tour around the world. Dr. Calisch, who has served his congregation for thirty-five years consecutively, was given a leave of absence for a year, and he is utilizing the opportunity to visit various Jewish communities in the Orient. While in Shanghai he was given a hearty welcome by the Jewish community there and was called upon to make addresses on various functions. He was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. S. Hardoon and there he met some prominent Chinese officials and scholars.

The Shanghai Jewish community is still without a Rabbi and Dr. Calisch suggested to the leaders there to get in touch with the Jewish Theological Seminary of America with a view of obtaining a suitable person to fill the vacancy.

JEWISH PHYSICIANS MURDERED

Two prominent physicians were murdered and a third mortally wounded last Sunday at Moscow, Russia, by an enraged patient, who had failed to obtain a cure at their hands, and who later committed suicide. The victims were Dr. Namm Maizel, Dr. Moses Melcharski and Dr. Emil Hirshfeld. Their assailant, Stephen Losgachoff, a workman, had for some time been taking treatment for a serious nervous disorder at Dr. Hirshfeld's clinic.

When Losgachoff went there Sunday he was questioned about his condition by Dr. Maizel, but replied he had not improved. Dr. Maizel then left the room to consult a colleague. The patient followed and shot him in the head. Maizel fell, and Losgachoff entered the office of Dr. Melcharski, where, uttering an imprecation, he shot him also.

It was reported that Olshanski, the Ukrainian, who had confessed that it was he who threw the bomb at the Polish President, of which Steiger had been accused, and escaped to Mexico, because of the persecutions to which he was subjected at the hands of the Polish anti-Semites in Vienna, where he was sojourning.

No group in Toronto more than the Jews should be desirous of seeing carried to success the Sick Children's Hospital Campaign for $500,000 with which to build an auxiliary rural hospital at Thistletown. For the Jews are greatly in debt to this wonderful institution. To it they owe the lives of thousands of little ones and if not actually the lives, at least the good health and the use of limbs.

Many a Jewish parent owes a debt to the Sick Children's Hospital which he can never repay no matter how much or how little he has to pay with. Was he bitterly poor and was the baby's life despaired of? Did he have a little money, but not enough to pay for medical care? Was he rich and did the baby require hospital attention? It made no difference. The child was treated just the same, for none that knocks at the door of the Sick Children's Hospital is turned away to suffer as before or maybe die.

Any hour of the day or of the night, any one of the 365 days in the year, the Hospital is there for any parent to lean against, be he black or white, no matter what his race, religion or the size of his pocketbook. A friend to have: tried and true, generous, merciful and unquestioning. Such a one should know what gratitude is and the time for it is now when the Hospital needs money with which to widen its scope of usefulness, money with which to build more rooom in which to put more patients.

No people are more easily affected by a picture of child suffering than the emotional Jews. No parent is more visibly torn by anxiety than the Jewish parent when his child is sick. The Jews, then, should be among the first to give to this compelling cause.

The Jewish community of Toronto is grateful to the Sick Children's Hospital for the Hospital's very existence, even individual members who have never had to avail themselves of its service and hope they never will. Its contributions should bespeak this feeling, for the Jewish community is unwilling to shirk while other groups discharge its debts. If you have given before don't stop now. If you have never given before, experience what it means to help the Sick Children's Hospital extend its hand toward those who wait for care. Be one of those to give. Be one of those to give as much as possible.

* * *

When Dr. Lee K. Frankel addressed the jubilee service of the Hebrew Union College several months ago he deplored the absence of Jewish intellectuals and professionals. Where were the lay intellectual leaders, the scientists, writers, educators, physicians and artists? Had they no interest in Judaism? They may have been too busy or they may have been enjoying indifference, ignorance, agnosticism or atheism at the time, but, according to Henry Hurwitz, "chancellor" of the Menorah movement, they are going to turn up soon in a new impulse of attachment to the Jewish group.

Mr. Hurwitz has found "the dawn of a new era"—again. These dawns were common enough a while back, but even the hope that springs eternal in the human breast has failed to produce many of them lately, so this one should have full attention. It seems that "the intelligent Jew is seeking not an avenue of escape but the road to return to Judaism." Mr. Hurwitz finds educated Jews impelled to return to their inherited Judaism by the Menorah movement, anti-Semitism and Zionism. He looks for "a profound change in the nature of Judaism, an enrichment and transformation of the Jewish heritage by modern Western culture, science and art. It will be different from the last century when Jewish intellectuals everywhere enfeebled the group by turning their backs on Judaism.

Dr. Horace M. Kallen, of the New School of Social Research, says on the other hand: "It is a mistake to talk of bringing the intelligent Jew back to Judaism; Judaism must be brought back to the intelligent Jew.

"If Judaism is conceived of as a rigid body of codes, conventions and social practices to which all Jews must conform, Jewish intellectuals will beg leave not to have anything to do with it. But if it is visualized, as it has been here to-night, as a way of life, flexible enough to allow for a wide variety of personal expression, comprehensive enough to embrace Jews of the most diverse beliefs or lack of beliefs, interests, attitudes and ways of thinking, then the intelligent Jew will find room enough to function within the Jewish group rather than out of it."

In other words, the Jewish intellectuals will remain forever absent from such occasions as the jubilee service of the Hebrew Union College so long as Judaism is what it is to-day. The flexibility and the comprehensiveness Dr. Kallen wants and the "profound change in the nature of Judaism" which Hurtwiz predicts are the very things that the staunchest supporters of Judaism are fighting against and it will take a long, long time to shake them loose. Meantime the lay intellectual leaders will doubtless continue to detach themselves from the affairs of institutionalized religion. And after that the Messiah is coming, and all these worries will be no more.

An idea that strikes "home"

The idea of doing family wash overnight and returning it to you first thing on the following morning for you to iron really means that you can get through washing and ironing in one morning. This has made a tremendous difference in many households and is quicker even than it can be done at home by yourself. Furthermore, pure soap, soft water and many rinsings ensure the splendid snowy white color so highly prized by any good housewife. For all these advantages phone to-day

TWENTY-FIVE DAYS' TOUR TO ALASKA

Once Alaska was identified with the gold seeker. To-day it is as closely linked with tourist traffic, for men have found that there is more sheer gold in one Alaskan sunset than ever came out of the rockbound mines. It is a land of strange contradictions and never-ending surprises. It is the desire of every tourist to visit this enchanted country, the land of the midnight sun.

The Kerr-Bryson tour via the Canadian National Railways offers you the desired opportunity under most advantageous auspices and at a minimum cost. The tour embraces Jasper National Park, the famous Triangle Tour, the Pacific Coast, Alaska, and the Great Lakes trip on the return journey.

Write for full information and descriptive booklet to Mr. A. B. Bryson, 44 Silverthorn Avenue, Toronto 9, Ont., or Mr. Martin Kerr, 4 Beulah Avenue, Hamilton, Ont.

CHIEF RABBINATE FOR GERMANY

Rabbi Felix Goldman, of Leipzig, in a contribution to the Israelitische Familienblatt, of Hamburg, proposes that Germany Jewry should follow the example of England, France and other European countries and appoint a spiritual head in the form of a Chief Rabbi, who should be recognized by the outside world as the representative of the entire Jewish community in Germany.

The Jewish unemployed workers in Germany, like their brethren in Poland, have recently made a demonstration in front of the community building in Berlin, shouting: "Give us bread." The Community Board promised to grant immediate relief in emergency cases and to investigate the whole matter without delay.

The German anti-Semitic press made the discovery that the League of Nations was a Jewish invention and therefore unfit for Germany to associate with. The discovery is based on a reference made by Dr. Klee in an address which he delivered in support of Germany joining the League, when he said that the principles of the League are in harmony with the ideals enunciated by the Prophets; hence the German anti-Semites say that the League must be of Jewish origin.

GOVERNMENT AIMS IN LITHUANIA

At a conference of a number of members of Parliament belonging to the Jewish minorities in the Baltic countries, which was recently held in Riga, Deputy Garfunkle, of Lithuania, explained the present position of the Jews there. He said that in Lithuania the experiment had been started of carrying into effect the principle of national autonomy on a large scale. Unfortunately, however, things had come to such a pass that they were much worse off in regard to autonomy than Latvia or Esthonia. In Lithuania there were 168 Jewish communities possessing the right of taxation. They had had a Jewish National Council and a Jewish minister. All that has been destroyed and the Government was now pursuing the aim of bringing about a dissolution of Jewish unity by splitting up the Jewish population into groups and factions, so that it should be able it play off one against the other. For this purpose it enacted a new community law, which permitted any small group of Jews to constitute a Jewish community.

The Jewish population of Latvia will be released from the hardships which the new Sunday Closing Bill was expected to bring to them. The vigorous protest of the Jewish deputies brought about a conference between the political leaders and the Jews which will aim at adjusting the matter to the satisfaction of the Jews.

ANTI-JEWISH DISTURBANCES IN RUMANIA

The Rumanian students are bent upon making life intolerable to the Jews. The situation has become so serious that the King of Rumania himself has taken a hand in endeavouring to quell these riots. The Council of Ministers held several sessions, at which various plans for preventing future riots were discussed. Thirty-four students were placed under arrest. Many Jewish shops were looted and much property was destroyed. The number of Jews who were attacked by the rioters has not been made public. The riot continued in Bucharest for a whole day and it was necessary to call in a detachment of artillery in order to disperse the rioters. In Jassy, also, many Jewish stores were ransacked and many Jews were attacked on the streets. The students gave a virtual ultimatum to the Government that unless the "numerus clausus" is introduced in Rumanian universities, a general strike will be declared throughout the country. They also mentioned that this demand must be fulfilled within ten days.

At a meeting of the British Board of Deputies, Mr. Lucien Wolf presented a gloomy report of the condition of the Jews in Rumania. He accused the present government with insincerity and said that the attempt at eradicating anti-Semetism which the authorities are making is inadequate and ineffective. He counseled that if no change is made after the coming general elections, that the board should take energetic steps in order to make an end to the reign of terror in that land.

NORTHERN ONTARIO CANADA

Northern Ontario, now open for settlement in 160-acre blocks at fifty cents per acre, contains millions of acres of the finest agricultural land in the world. Its resources in lumber, minerals, water power, fish, game and scenery are immense. The land calls for men to cultivate it, and in return will give health, comfort and prosperity.

What settlers say of the soil, climate, farming and forest life, is told in a most attractive booklet issued under the direction of the Honourable John S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario. Full instructions in regards to acquiring a title to these rich agricultural lands are also given.

JEWS IN SOVIET RUSSIA

The order recently issued by the Soviet authorities prohibiting anti-religious demonstrations was hailed with enthusiasm and joy by the Jewish population in Russia. The fact is that the Christian peasantry was as much outraged by these blasphemous spectacles as were the Jews, and the present decree is intended to pacify the population in the same measure as the new economic policy (Nep) was to do this in the economic field. It is hoped that the present measure will be a hint to the Jewish communists, the Yevseks, to cease from their policy of harassing and outraging the religious feelings of the Jewish people.

A correspondent in the "Day" describes how the Jewish family life has gradually been stripped of all religious significance. Marriages are rarely consecrated with a religious ceremony. It is sufficient that the couple register in the official bureau as man and wife, and even parents are becoming reconciled to the new state of affairs and demand no more. There are now thousands of Jewish boys who have not been circumcised. A few years ago the parent who would allow his child to be circumcised would be excluded from the party, and if he held any government position he would be dismissed from his office. All ceremony is disappearing in the family life. This also applies to such ceremonies which have no religious significance, as birthdays and other events in the family. The children do not want it any more and the parents are getting used to the idea that they are unable to force these upon their children.

The Soviet authorities are apparently very much in earnest in their effort to improve the economic condition of the Jews in the smaller communities in Ukraine. While skilled laborers are not encouraged to settle on the land, they are assisted with tools and with materials to ply their trades and schools are being established for the training of their children for industry. The number of Jewish families desiring to settle on the land is constantly increasing and the authorities are aiding these in every way to establish themselves on the soil. Some anti-Jewish disturbances were reported last week from some places in Ukraine, where the Christian peasants demanded that some of the land set aside for Jews should be distributed among non-Jewish peasants. This demand was refused by President Petrovsky, of the Ukrainian Soviets, and this refusal brought about the disturbances. No data of the extent of the damage done are available.

The higher officials are also more careful now in their investigations of the doings of the commissars in the smaller towns. Many acts of violence and of cruelty, especially in connection with the collection of taxes and the imposition of fines, have come to light recently. Some of these officials have also been found guilty of extortion and severe penalties were meted out to them.

It appears also that the authorities are more amenable to petitions coming from different sources with regard to the cultural life of the Jews. A large number of requests came from Ukraine for the opening of schools in which Hebrew should be the language of instruction. A petition from the Poale Zion, requesting the legalization of emigration to Palestine, is now under consideration by the authorities.

Rabbi Moses Eisenstadt, former chief rabbi of Leningrad, who recently visited this country, is now in London and is assisting Dr. D. Jochelman, the worker for the Ukrainian Federation, in raising funds for the work of the Federation.

The Theatre Guild announces that its next production will be a play from the Russian entitled "The Chief Thing," written by Nicholas Evreinoff and translated by Herman Bernstein. The play had its premiere in Petrograd in 1921 and has since been widely produced in Europe. The author is at present in this country and will assist with the production.

Harry Lachman, a Chicago painter, who startled the art world with his paintings a few years ago, is now devoting himself entirely to the movies, having become production manager of a large studio. He has four canvases hanging in the Luxemburg Gallery in Paris.

BORN

Monday, March 8, at the Ottawa Civic Hospital, to Dr. and Mrs. Harry Dover, a daughter.

LOEW'S

Scenes in an aerial express of the type which flies between London and Paris were filmed for the first time by Director Jack Conway for Elinor Glyn's "Soul Mates," coming to Loew's Theatre next week. Scenes showing the embarkation in London and the arrival in Paris of the huge flying machine are scenes of an actual embarkation and arrival filmed abroad, while the interior scenes were photographed in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios within a set accurately reproducing the inside of such a plane.

The passengers on this trip include Aileen Pringle as Velma, heroine of the story and Edmund Lowe as Lord Tancred, her bridegroom, flying from her in a huff to obtain a divorce at the French capital. On finding themselves fellow-passengers on the plane they effect a reconciliation. The scene is one of the most interesting ever filmed by reason of the novelty of its setting.

Harry Thurston, famous London star tops the vaudeville programme.

PANTAGES

A young Englishman of fine family who is boycotted from marine service because he failed to obey the code of the sea in time of danger—

A beautiful half-caste Malay oppressed by a cruel step-father on a lonely island in the Indian Ocean—

A brutal sea-captain who, in time of danger, abandons his ship with eight hundred passengers on board—

These are the three characters around which Joseph Conrad wove his dramatic romance of the sea, "Lord Jim," which comes to the screen at the Pantages Theatre on Saturday as a Paramount picture featuring Percy Marmont, Shirley Mason, Noah Beery and Raymond Hatton.

In the production Marmont plays the part of the Englishman, Miss Mason the half-caste and Noah Beery is the sea captain. Hatton has the role of the girl's brutal step-father.

"THE GLAD CANDY"

Baroness Alphonse de Rothschild and her father, Mr. Edmund Sebag-Montefiore, will be in America early in April, en route home from a trip around the world. Before her marriage to one of the Vienna Rothschilds in 1912, the Baroness was Miss Clarice Sebag-Montefiore, a member of one of the most notable families in Anglo-Jewry. Over $10,000 has been loaned in the last two years to small business men who without this assistance would have been compelled to go into bankruptcy. The Association is building a Hebrew school where the poor are taught without charge. The United Hebrew Association also provides free shelter for destitute strangers and assists needy travellers to reach their destination. Since this organization has been in existence, over $50,000 has been distributed by it.

KASHRUTH IN PALESTINE

The Jerusalem correspondent of the New Palestine sees in the recent decision of the Palestine Supreme Court ruling that rabbinical supervision of the sale of kosher meat is not required, as was reported in these columns a few weeks ago, an attempt at breaking up the unity of the Jewish population in Palestine. This decision was granted at the appeal of the Agudath Israel, who refused to submit to the authority of the Chief Rabbinate of Palestine. They therefore demanded that butchers selling meat for their constituency should not be required to submit to the supervision of the Chief Rabbi and their request was granted. The Chief Rabbinate as at present constituted, although not vested with any direct legal authority, has been recognized by the British administration and enjoyed the full confidence of both the Askenazic and Sephardic communities of Palestine. When several stores in Tel Aviv, whose owners were followers of the Agudah refused to submit to the Chief Rabbinate action, was brought against them and General Storrs at that time ruled that all stores selling meat without a certificate from the Chief Rabbi should be closed. The Agudah then appealed the case and the Supreme Court decided in their favor. This decision will strengthen the hands of the Agudah in its endeavour to establish itself as a power in Palestine.

Reuben Brainin, the well-known Hebrew writer who is now visiting Palestine, was given the freedom of the colony of Rishon l'Zion, when a reception in his honour was given by the colonists.

Confidence--the Keynote of Success

The knowledge that one is properly dressed creates that confidence which characterizes a successful man.

Collars that feel like a caress. The Van-Dusen and semi-soft made to rival the best starched collar.

Shirts that fit correctly. No bulging at neck or bosom. Cuffs turned evenly, and when necessary taken off and reversed.

Socks and Woollens with that soft, velvety feeling so much desired and only possible when a soap like "Ivory" is used.

Repairs—Every article the man wears kept in first-class condition, not merely "mending free."
